SECOND CALL TO BE MADE NEXT WEEK

But One Slacker Out of Three Hundred Ninety-Three Summoned.

EXEMPTIONS ASKED RUN SIXTY-TWO PER CENT

In response to notices sent out last week by the exemption board for Carbon county a hundred and twenty-four men drafted on June 5th, last, for the war appeared at the court last Tuesday for their examination and all were taken through. One hundred and thirty-one had been summoned with a like number Wednesday and also for yesterday morning. At the close of the examination yesterday evening, one hundred and ninety-two had been before the board or accounted for the Greek at Winter Quarters, and the three hundred and ninety-three had sent down word he was not coming. Herbert Collingham will see to it that prompt.

Even Two Hundred.
Of the three hundred and twenty-four men appearing during the three call, per cent, or thirty-nine are qualified physically or otherwise, while per cent, or an even two more, have entered claims for exemption. Twenty-six per cent, or forty-five, have not claimed exemption. This first call is for a hundred and sixty-men. The eighty-five men without exemption is not quite the quota wanted on the first call, so filling exemptions are being examined today and after this work is through with a second call will go on likely on Monday next. Many more claimed are expected to turn down by the examining board.

Outside Doctors Help.
The county board was assisted during the three days in the physical examination by Dr. F. H. Bishop, Dr. F. E. Estes of Standardville, Dr. E. M. Nutter of Coalville, Dr. H. R. Dowd of Kunkerville, Dr. C. C. Cooper of Hiawatha and Dr. G. Rutherford of St. George. Two of them worked each day. C. P. Cooper, representing Utah Fuel Co., was present to assist some of the companies and others in getting blanks and otherwise, Dr. G. Rutherford and Dr. G. T. Cooper acted as clerks.

Coal Companies Assist.
The coal companies of the county making no objections whatever to the employees enlisting, but on the other hand are anxious in every way to see that he is passed he is allowed to return to work and will be called for by the government wants his services. That is said, will be not for the future. Those who have passed seven days from the date on which they were notified to appear in the draft are exempted. The "slackers" are allowed ten days in which to appear after the time they are notified to be present.

At the Coal Camps.
From the Utah Fuel Company camp of Sunnyside, Castle Gate, Winter Quarters, Clear Creek and Utah Valley, a total of a hundred and fifteen men claimed. Ten, or 8 per cent, are disqualified. Eighty-eight, or 72 per cent, claim exemption. No claims for exemption, twenty-two, or 19 per cent. Absent, twenty-eight, or 24 per cent. Total called before the board hundred and forty-three. C. P. Cooper, who made calculations for the Utah Fuel company, thinks the figures for the other camps of the county will run about the same as the population is about of the same character everywhere.

Below are the names of those who passed without claiming exemption of any kind; those who have been summonsed for different reasons, (not for not appearing), and also those physically disqualified for service. Also are given the names of those not Germans.

SURE OF THE LOAN

LAW BOARD Considering Application of Irrigation Company.

J. H. Lewand, Price's member of the board of directors of Price River Irrigation company, yesterday (Thursday) had a letter from George A. Smith, secretary, President Austin Austin, treasurer, and others of the company on Tuesday last had a conference with the state land board relative to borrowing forty thousand dollars for building the tunnel west of Price, and they are hopeful of being able to make the loan.

Members of the land board are impressed with the importance of the matter and after considering the report of the company directors to its stockholders of the date of August 1, 1917, appear willing to lend the money and also any aid that is reasonable and within the power of the board. However, the matter is being taken up with Gov. Simon J. Bamberger this week.

Secretary Smith is confident the money will be forthcoming in plenty of time to assure an increased water supply by the building of the tunnel for next year's crops. MRS. FRANDSEN'S WILL

CASE NOW Remanded to the District Court of Carbon.

HOLDS WHIP OVER UTAH OPERATING COMPANIES

Indications are that the financial difficulties of the Denver and Rio Grande are to be settled amicably and without an attempt being made to place the road in the hands of receivers for rehabilitating the system.

Information received in Utah this week by attorneys of the road is to the effect that the Equitable Trust company, which recently secured a judgment against the Denver and Rio Grande for $12,000,000, will not proceed to have execution issued, but is to make a proposal to the directors which will probably be accepted.

The judgment was for the principal and interest on $22,000,000 worth of Western Pacific bonds which the Denver and Rio Grande guaranteed when the Western Pacific was built. The Western Pacific went into the hands of receivers and was bought by interests not in accord with the Denver and Rio Grande. But was then instituted to collect the money on the bonds which had been guaranteed.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Utah-Idaho Motor company Wednesday evening last H. R. Hubbard was named as manager of that company, succeeding W. O. Hunter. The stockholders are to have a meeting next Saturday for the election of a board of directors and for any other business that may come before them.

Property owners and tenants and agents alike are given warning by the council of the enforcement of the city ordinance as to weeds upon and in front of property within the corporate limits. Mayor Horner says it is to be enforced without favor.

LEGAL BLANKS, ETC.

The Sun carries in stock a complete line of legal blanks, such as are in daily use by politicians, attorneys, abstractors, notaries public and conveyancers. Orders by mail are filled the day received. Salt Lake City prices. Sun forms are prepared by the leading attorneys of the state. They're correct.

COUNCIL STANDING BY ITS FORMER ACTION

Petition from Forty-Seven Citizens Presented and Tabled After Much Discussion—War On Property Owners That Allow the Weeds to Grow in Front of Premises in Price.

The city council chamber was filled to capacity last Tuesday evening with citizens anxious to hear and see what was to be done with the petition filed by petition against the employment of King & Braffet, Salt Lake City attorneys, in bringing the suit of Price city against the Pleasant Valley coal company (Utah Fuel), the Denver and Rio Grande railroad and other corporations for the alleged contamination of the waters of the Price river, from which source this city gets its supply of water for domestic uses. The petition was signed by forty-seven representative taxpayers and was a general protest against any action at law, the petitioners feeling that the matter could be satisfactorily settled by proper committees appointed for the purpose.

During the discussion the attorney was set forth that conditions have been steadily growing worse for a matter of more than twenty years, owing to a policy of leniency, and that eventually this question must be settled in court. The council felt that this is as good a time as any to adjust the water question, and voted unanimously in favor of a motion made by Councilman Farrett to the effect that the case be left in the hands of the attorneys until the city gets the relief asked for.

Other Matters Up.

J. E. Cloward was appointed city health officer to fill the unexpired term of Dr. E. F. Chamberlain, resigned. The appointment was confirmed.

The city recorder was instructed to order an eighteen-inch corrugated iron culvert to be placed at the intersection of Main and Fifth streets.

The street supervisor was instructed to serve printed notices on all property owners to at once remove weeds from their premises, and to see that the ordinance in relation thereto is rigidly enforced. Further notice is given property owners in this impression of The Sun.

J. A. Forsyth was granted permission to cut through the sidewalk in front of the Crockett business block on Main street for the purpose of laying a drain pipe from the back lots to the gutter on the property front, this being necessary to control waste waters during the winter and rainy seasons.

Utilities People Busy.

Some weeks ago the council found it necessary to increase the light and power schedules to meet the increased cost of labor, fuel, oil and supplies in the city electric department. The public utilities commission has restrained the council from charging the increased rates, and has asked for more "whys" and "wherefores," as well as for a detailed financial statement of the electric light system. Until the commission allows the change, the old rates will remain in force. In view of this a number of citizens are again agitating the matter of selling the plant under a proposition made by J. H. Mansen some time ago, and which was fully explained at the time in the columns of The Sun, in which event it would not be necessary to raise the price of current to the consumer. There is much merit in the leasing proposition and The Sun is perfectly willing, along with many others sounded on the matter, that it be put up to the voters for a final decision.

MORE MONEY WANTED

Electrical Workers Quit Phoenix Construction Company.

Upon the refusal of the Phoenix Construction company to grant their demands, a hundred and twenty-five electrical workers, employed in construction work between Grace, Ida, and Helper, Utah, left their jobs yesterday morning. "It is not a strike," said J. W. Weier, business agent of the Union at Zion. "The men simply have left their jobs to take work which suits them better."

The electrical workers employed on the construction work are affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and through a committee asked the Phoenix Construction company for an increase of a dollar a day in wages. They want five instead of four dollars a day.

They asked also for better accommodations in the construction camps.
